

OVERVIEW

Hotel Maiensee

At an altitude of 1,765 metres, Hotel Maiensee is more than just a hotel – it is a place for those who seek the exceptional. For guests who do not view Alpine tradition as mere scenery, but as a lived way of life. For all who value quality down to the finest detail, consciously embrace a slower pace, and long for genuine tranquillity – without compromising on comfort, style or cuisine.

Located directly on the ski slopes, this family-run four-star hotel combines modern Alpine lifestyle with a sense of warmth and security. Here, guests stay away from the hustle and bustle, yet right in the heart of Austria's largest interconnected ski area. While elsewhere the focus may be on seeing and being seen, at the Maiensee it is about time for oneself, shared experiences, carefree days in the snow and indulgent evenings by the fireside.

Family-owned since 1971, the hotel is now run by Stephan Traxl together with his sister Andrea Traxl. Personal attention, a deeply rooted culture of hospitality and a refined sense for contemporary Alpine style define the house – shaped by genuine closeness to the guest and a deep connection to the surrounding mountain landscape.
